The Bold Collinses

Comic Artist's Family Gets Away From It All

By JAY HEAVILIN
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

(CLEVELAND — (NEA) —

Has suburban living got you down? And status seeking? And bucking crabgrass and commuter buses?

Then why not lock up "Mortgage Manor," yank the kids out of school and gad about? That's what the Kevin Collinses did more than a year ago and they have no regrets.

Now it must be admitted that they had a few things going for them.

For one thing, Mrs. Collins was able to persuade the school authorities back home in Ada, Mich., to let her tutor her children while they were out of school.

And Mr. Collins luckily had a profession he could take with him.

Husband Kreigh writes and draws a Sunday comic strip for Newspaper Enterprise Assn. about the adventures of a knight called "Kevin the Bold."

Like Kreigh himself, Kevin is a big, handsome Irishman who likes to gad about.

The Collins' crew also includes a real Kevin. He's a nine-year-old who looks a bit like Glenn Collins, his twin brother.

Completing the Collins' roster are David, 20, an astronomy student at the University of Michigan, and Erick, 22, a furniture designer.

Erick, who is designing furniture while his family went schoostering, because he's a newly-wed, and you know how a bride feels about spending a year or so at sea with her in-laws.

In March, 1959, the Collinses locked up their house, docked up The Heather, their 47-foot, two-masted schooner, and set sail down the Mississippi.

Why did they do it? Because the Mississippi, like Mount Everest, was there.

Then was the Gulf of Mexico. That's where the family sailed next; then they went along the Atlantic coast.

* * *

Now life aboard The Heather is not all beer and skittles and wanton merriment, in fact, Mrs. Collins bakes in a coal-burning stove, cooks on a two-burner alcohol stove, sees in an ice box, washes clothes in a bucket, and has had her baths called on account of shark-infested.

But schooner living does promote togetherness, family unity and all that sort of thing.

When the family gets too togethery and unified, Collins the Elder asks his children to go aloft and "see what's happening, dingby, which is to him what a small, second ear is to the suburbanite. Then Mr. and Mrs. dress up for dinner, light candles and reminisce about their 35 years of marriage.

Today the Collinses, having sailed from the Gulf of Mexico and New York State's inland barge canal, are in the Great Lakes and homeward bound.

They are eating the last of their eggs packed in sawdust, and writing their last letters to be left at the next lighthouse. Where will they go next? They'll probably bark back to the wilds of suburbia. 7-29-60

About This Collection

1. Analyze the Request:

Goal: Write a short description (60-90 words) for an adult photo gallery.

Input: Scrambled site captions.

Format: One coherent, engaging paragraph. End with a natural invitation to view via the link above. Tease models, setting, action without listing captions mechanically. Plain text only (no markdown, no lists, no quotes).

Language: Same as the gallery title ("family unity comic"). Wait, the title is English ("family unity comic"), but the captions are mixed English/Russian/mixed. The prompt says "Answer in the same language as the input" and "The gallery title is: 'family unity comic'. Write the entire description in the same language as this title". So the output must be in English.

Constraint 1: Naturally reuse at least 20% of the key words from the captions (names, nicknames, distinctive terms).), Messy Cow, Family Unity, Nicktoons, oc:king, oc:king calm merriment, Fables 157 Unity 21 Variant, Valiant, Moja deyka, Datu-Talagbusao, trese, Comic Proshaya. Let's pick the most salient ones: Bart Sears, Jimmy neutron, Danny Phantom, Messy Cow, Family Unity, Nicktoons, oc:king.

Constraint 2: Translate the rest as needed.

Constraint 3: End with a natural invitation to view the full gallery via the link above. (Wait, I don't have a link, but I should write something like "View the full gallery above" or "Click the link above to see more" - wait, "via the link above" implies I just need to say "View the full gallery via the link above." or similar. Actually, standard phrasing: "Explore the full gallery via the link above.")

Constraint 4: No AI-flag words: delve, tapestry, vibrant, testament, landscape, showcase, crucial, pivotal, additionally, moreover, furthermore, "it is important to note", "serves as", "boasts".

Constraint 5: Never use em or en dashes; split the sentence or use a comma.

Constraint 6: Never use "not only X but Y" constructions, "At its core", or forced groups of exactly three items.

Constraint 7: Use "to" instead of "in order to"; use "because" instead of "due to the fact that".
